

WEBSITE REDESIGN PROPOSAL

A new look for the McRoberts website

Built only from what our school already has.

FOR

Mr. Jason Leslie, Principal

FROM

Ali Rajool, McRoberts parent and PAC Co-Treasurer

DATE

October 2026

Hi Mr. Leslie,

Our school website has a lot of good information, but it is hard to use, especially on a phone. On a phone, a parent who wants to report an absence has to scroll almost four screens down the home page to find the number, and the bell schedule is a picture that is too small to read. I took the site's own pages and built a working preview of a new design. It keeps the crest and every word as they are today, and it stays on Drupal 10, so it can be added as a new theme without moving any content.

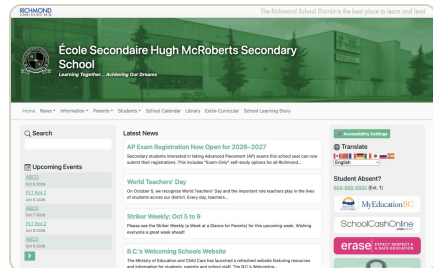

WHAT I AM ASKING

Your feedback.

Please open the preview on your phone and on a computer, and tell me what works and what doesn't. If you like the direction, I would be happy to walk you through it.

TODAY'S SITE

The home page.

The crest, our name and our motto lead the page, with the top tasks right under them and the absence number in the top bar of every page.

REDESIGN

What stays exactly the same

The crest
Used exactly as it is: no new colours, no cropping, no redrawing. The site's green comes from the crest.

Every word
Every heading, menu label and page uses words that are on our site today. A check compares each page with the live site and finds 0 new words.

Drupal 10 and the district's setup
The same content, views and blocks. It comes as a new theme plus menu settings, so no content has to move.

Easy to undo
Going back is one setting: make the current theme the default again. Today's menu can be saved first and put back too.

A simpler site structure

Seven menus, named after what people come for, each with the most requested pages first.
A slim bar on every page holds the absence line and the main sign-ins.

The biggest improvements

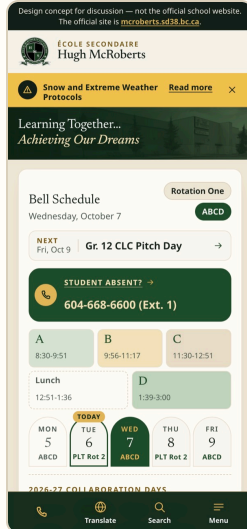

Each pair shows the same view: today's site on the left, the redesign on the right.

1 The first screen on a phone

TODAY'S SITE

Today's home page on a phone: the crest, the school name and a menu button.

REDESIGN

The first screen now shows today's blocks, the next event and a one-tap call to report an absence. Today that number is almost four screens down.

2 Reporting an absence

TODAY'S SITE

Today's Student Attendance page on a phone: the header fills most of the screen.

REDESIGN

The redesigned Student Attendance page on a phone, with a call button for the Early Warning number.

The page starts right away, and the Early Warning number is a button that calls it. Today the title starts near the bottom of the screen and the number can't be tapped.

3 The bell schedule

TODAY'S SITE

Today's bell schedule on a phone: a picture of the timetable, too small to read.

REDESIGN

The redesigned bell schedule on a phone: today's date, rotation and blocks as text.

The timetable is real text and tables that show today's blocks and what comes next. Today it is a picture, and on a phone its times are about 3 pixels tall.

4 The school calendar

TODAY'S SITE

Today's school calendar on a phone: a small scroll box that starts on September 7.

REDESIGN

The redesigned school calendar on a phone: a list for this month with month buttons.

The calendar is a full-width list by month, No School days are marked, and the timetable codes are small tags you can hide. Today it is a small scroll box that starts in early September.

5

The menu

Each menu opens one clear panel, with the most requested pages first and the rest in labelled groups. Today some pages, like Strikers Athletics and Club Directory, are not in the menu at all.

TODAY'S SITE

 Today's Parents menu: one long list.

REDESIGN

 The redesigned Parents menu: the most requested pages first, then four labelled groups.

6

News

Every story shows its date, and the newsletters have their own filter. Today the news cards have no dates.

TODAY'S SITE

 Today's News Archive: cards with no dates.

REDESIGN

 The redesigned News Archive: dated stories and a Newsletters filter.

Accessibility and speed, before and after

Measured with Lighthouse on a phone and from the files themselves. The home page was already quick (about 1.1 seconds on a slow phone connection), and nothing on it jumps while it loads. That stays the same. The big gains are in accessibility and in the heaviest files.

MEASURE	TODAY	REDESIGN
Lighthouse accessibility, home page on a phone	87	100
Lighthouse accessibility, Student Attendance on a phone	91	100
Lighthouse best practices, both pages	100	100
Contrast of link text (4.5 : 1 is the minimum)	2.4 : 1	8.8 : 1
Pages with more than one main heading	183 of 191	0 of 139
Pages where the absence number calls with one tap	Home page only	All 139
Career Centre photo	24.2 MB	363 KB
Heaviest page (a story with images pasted into the text)	3.9 MB	69 KB
All images on the site	31.7 MB	7.3 MB

Lighthouse SEO is not compared: the preview is set to stay out of search engines on purpose.

How it compares with the best school websites

We compared McRoberts with 12 of the best school websites of 2024 to 2026, from BC to the UK, on a scale of 1 to 5. I scored the redesign the same way. Those scores are mine, so please judge them on the preview.

How to adopt it

- 1 Look at the live preview on a phone and on a computer.
- 2 Download the Drupal theme (microberts-drupal-theme.zip) and pass it to whoever looks after our site at the district.
- 3 Try it on a staging copy first. A Platform.sh branch environment copies the live site's content, so the real site does not change while it is tested.
- 4 When it looks right, make the new theme the default and add the new menu settings.
- 5 If anything goes wrong, make the current theme the default again.

Thank you for reading this, and for everything you and the staff do for our kids. I would love to hear what you think.
